

WEDA 31 in Pictures - Who was there?

Some of the names and faces seen at WEDA 31 and TAMU 42, Nashville, Tennessee, June 5 - 8, 2011

Rick King, sales; Tom Kroeger, president; and Bob Sutton, sales at the Dredge & Marine Company booth.

Mark Sickles, left, corporate and government relations at Weeks Marine, and Chuck Broussard, chief estimator, with the company's exhibit showing their new dredges under construction.

Joe Streko presided over EarthCam's slide show of projects their camera's had recorded. The photo shown is of the Embrey Dam removal project on the Rappahannock River in 2004.

From left, Duke Long, Dan Baker and Jason Rhymes in the Del Tank booth.

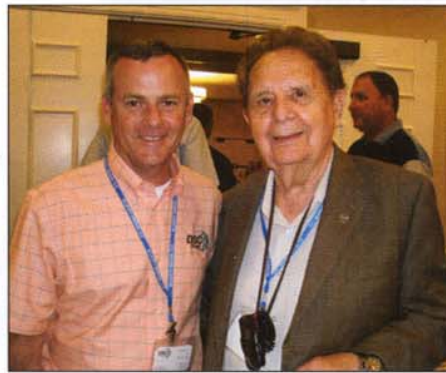

John Fowler, left, of Arc Surveying and Mapping, explains a hologram image of a bridge replacement project to Jason Koenig of IDR.

Ancil Taylor, left, talks to Maj. W. Judson, deputy district commander of the Corps Nashville District.

Christine Roca and Bob Glover in the Hypack booth.

Robert Wetta, left, new president, and Larry Patella, executive director of WEDA.

Jeff McKee, left, accepting an award on behalf of Nelson Sanchez from Bill Hanson. Sanchez was a director from 2007 through 2010. His "foresight, sound judgment, professional acumen, support, dedication, knowledge and interest in raising the awareness of dredging throughout the Western Hemisphere was mutually beneficial in improving the transfer of knowledge throughout the Western Hemisphere as it relates to dredging, navigation, marine engineering and the enhancement of the marine environment."

Lemoine Marine Refrigeration, Inc.

Harvey, Louisiana
504-366-0903 • LMRINC@bellsouth.net

Air Conditioning, Refrigeration, & Sheetmetal Ductwork

New Construction, Repair, & Retrofit
24 Hour Sales & Service