

What is the Statue of Liberty UFO?

August 3, 2012 By: Tom Rose

A UFO video posted to YouTube has been uploaded by a man in the UK which was filmed in July, but, apparently looked at again in light of the recent Goodyear blimp controversy. The results are amazing.

The UFO video, posted by Arran Shaw, is recorded on an iPhone filming a laptop showing the live feed from the Statue of Liberty's EarthCam. So the quality is not the best. But the results are mysterious and definitely worth a second look.

In the segment posted here, Shaw and his mother are startled by an elongated, silvery object floating past the iconic landmark. It does look like a blimp, until it begins to behave erratically.

The unidentified flying object morphs from an elongated shape into a circular ball and traverses the sky in an odd way. Again, this might be expected, but for the speed of the transformation. It's just too quick for a blimp and the footage does not seem to be enhanced or sped up in any way.

A mysterious UFO was caught on tape in July hovering near the Statue of Liberty

The two witnesses become increasingly excited as several other, silvery-gray, elongated objects zoom past. But it's the hovering UFO which causes the most consternation.

Why does it seem to be changing shape? Why is it moving so fast? What is it?