

Celebrate New Year's Eve Vicariously—On The Web

December 31, 2009

If you don't want to head out in search of a party on New Year's Eve, you can join some celebrations around the world vicariously.

If you want to share in the excitement of the New Year's Eve bash in Times Square, but don't want to hassle with plane tickets, hotel rooms and the crowds, then you can live the moment vicariously on the Web.

Web cams are scattered around the square and you can keep tabs on them on the Internet.

There are more than a dozen cameras in the Earth Cam network of views, providing you with a panoramic look at the famous plaza as the final hours of 2009 tick away.
