

Netiton.com Announces Customer of the Day Program

December 21, 2008

Computer and network services company, Netiton.Com has announced a customer of the day program. The customer of the day will receive a 50% discount on the first hour of service provided on a scheduled service call and a link back to that customer's company's website. The customer of the day must call Netiton's office on the day his or her company is announced by the message board under the fish tank. Customers just visit Netiton.com's popular fishcam web page every day to see if their name is picked. Customers sign up for Netiton.com's COTD newsletter to get their name in the running.

Netiton.com's FishCam has been voted a top ten webcam for 2007 and 2008 on EarthCam.com's most popular webcams.

Netiton's customers receive this opportunity to use the COTD discounts on preventative maintenance, service contracts, and normal service calls. Individuals and companies that are out of Netiton.com's service footprint can use the discounts on remote support on any computer.

These service discounts are available for use on any Mac, Windows or Linux computer. Netiton.com offers a wide range of computer services.

Visit www.netiton.com for more details and to sign up.

Net It On is a professional computer company designed to handle business and home computer service. Mac, Microsoft, Linux and Unix support.