

Watch Hurricane Gustav Live Online

August 31, 2008

As Hurricane Gustav approaches Louisiana and over a million people are evacuated, a few crazy people, and some static webcams are providing a live stream live from the area. Here's some of the places you can watch Hurricane Gustav live...well, as long as the power and internet connections hold NOLA has a number of cams throughout the New Orleans area.

EarthCam offers a New Orleans cam, but doesn't offer a continual live stream, only snapshots.

The Louisiana Department of Transport offers traffic cams across New Orleans. This shot right taken at 6pm Sunday shows how quiet the city has already become.

There's also a variety of traffic cameras available from Baton Rouge.

For the latest updates on the storm, Ning is hosting an information center, and SocialMedian has a page as well.
