

Orlando Events Center Groundbreaking

July 28, 2008

Web cam allows fans ability to watch construction.

In conjunction with the groundbreaking of the new Orlando Events Center, the Orlando Magic announced today the re-launching of OrlandoEventsCenter.com. The Web site, which can be accessed by either going to OrlandoEventsCenter.com or via a link from the OrlandoMagic.com home page, will feature new interactive elements, including EarthCam's wireless wide angle megapixel mobile system, where fans can watch the real-time progress of the Orlando Events Center's construction.

Additional highlights of OrlandoEventsCenter.com include:

- # An arena overview with design principles and details about the facility.
- # A look at seating options, including in-depth information and floor plans about each level of premium seating.
- # Press releases and additional contact information for the Orlando Events Center.
- # Photo renderings of the interior and exterior of the building.

Click here to see the all new Orlandoeventscenter.com

