

Official World Trade Center Oculus Construction Time-Lapse

May 27, 2016

EarthCam released this time-lapse movie showcasing The Oculus construction, from July 2011 to May 2016, in honor of the ribbon cutting ceremony on May 26. The video is framed by more than one million high-resolution photographs and panoramas mixed into a wonderful cinematic time-lapse movie, showcasing the nearly 5-year project from start to finish in less than 2 minutes.

Brian Cury, the CEO and Founder of EarthCam, has commented on the video saying that “Unique and impressive designs like The Oculus are defining 21st century architecture and my hope is this movie acts as a time capsule of our innovative culture. We are proud to provide industry leaders with a powerful visual medium to showcase their legacy projects in a meaningful way for future generations.”

Director and Producer: Brian Cury

Archival Producers: Lana Moskalyova and Juan Navas

Webcam Technology: Bill Sharp, James Nicoll, Michael Winfield and Colin Sheehan

Editors: Brian Cury and Brandon Lum

Assistant Editors: Jeffrey Mayhew and Billy Paladino

Location: Millenium Hilton and Century 21