

New Maui Webcam Features Live View Near Kamaole Beach in Kihei

May 01, 2015

Maui Rental Group has partnered with global webcam leader EarthCam to provide a live streaming view of the Maui coastline in Kihei. Perched above Cove Beach Park just north of Kamaole Beach I and Charley Young Beach, the cam offers a live view in high definition of palm trees, ocean and the West Maui mountains.

To watch the live EarthCam view from Maui, go to <http://www.mauirental.com> and select "Maui Webcam" on their home page featured image. Visitors can also see the same view on the EarthCam website at <http://www.earthcam.com/usa/hawaii/maui/>.

The location of the Maui webcam above Cove Beach Park is popular for surfing, outrigger canoeing and stand up paddle boarding (SUP). Maui Rental Group represents many Maui vacation rentals nearby in Kihei and at the famous Wailea resort. Their Maui condos also include locations at Makena and at Kapalua. Guests can choose from a selection of Maui resorts with oceanfront settings, ocean or garden views and near Maui golf courses.

We are pleased to join EarthCam and promote Maui tourism with this spectacular view from the Hawaiian Islands, commented Paul Dobson, owner of Maui Rental Group. Guests can also read our Maui travel blog and view our selection of Maui condos while enjoying this live scene from paradise.

EarthCam features live views worldwide including Times Square, Statue of Liberty, Sydney Harbor and Niagara Falls. The newest Hawaii webcam, and their first on Maui, offers an exciting opportunity for both companies.

"Our partnership with the Maui Rental Group will entice new visitors to this vibrant area by showcasing the beautiful location in live streaming video, said Lisa Kelly, EarthCam Communications Director. We hope the webcam will help explorers of all ages learn about and connect with the diverse landscapes of Maui.
