

PICS: Temple Bar Is Packed Right Now With A Sea Of Green

By Laura Holland - March 17, 2016

As expected, Temple Bar is THROGGED right now.

You can either take that as a warning or a welcome bit of information.

Tourists flock to Temple Bar on most days, but today being Paddy's Day, it's absolutely packed.

With the parade happening nearby it's welcoming large amounts of people, complete with Irish or green accessories, to the pubs and cobbled streets.

If you're missing out on the action, fear not, you can view all the Irish festivities from the comfort of your home through the EarthCam.

Here is how it looked at midday today.

The carefully placed camera is on standby to catch all the moments in Temple Bar as they happen. One moment you can have relative calmness, the next 20 men walked across screen dressed head to toe in matching green suits.

It's gas!

These guys in matching outfits were placed perfectly for a photo right in the centre of the EarthCam.