

Let EarthCam Wine & Dine You with Live Vineyard Cam

April 15, 2015 (www.investorideas.com newswire)

EarthCam and the Washington State Wine Commission have teamed up to deliver live streaming views of the beautiful Sagemoor Vineyard in Washington State. Located in the Columbia Valley AVA, watch as rows and rows of vines produce grapes and are harvested by local wine grape growers, with the Columbia River serving as the backdrop.

Travel to Sagemoor Vineyard from the comfort of your home with EarthCam's live view at <http://www.earthcam.com/usa/washington/pasco/>.

Founded in 1968 through the vision of Alec Bayless, Sagemoor Vineyards was a pioneering effort that helped establish the Washington State wine industry (see Excerpts below). Its early vineyards are among the oldest large-scale plantings of vinifera grapes in the State. Today, the Sagemoor Group has more than 800 acres in production, supplying premium quality fruit to many of Washington's most prominent wineries. A significant number of 1972 plantings are still producing highly acclaimed "old vines" Cabernet Sauvignon and Sauvignon Blanc. Other varietals include Merlot, Chardonnay, Syrah, Cabernet Franc and White Riesling. <http://www.sagemoorfarms.com/index.html>
