

Watch live in the nest of birds of prey

Maaïke Schwering | May 19, 2017

Live Bird Webcams allow you to watch live birds like birds of prey

A bald falcon feeding her boy in a nest on top of the Tappan Sea Bridge in New York and an osprey that built year nest above the sports fields of the University of Florida. The busy activities of these birds of prey can follow you live through EarthCam's live bird webcams.

You get a close look in the life of these beautiful birds without bothering them. You have the choice of nine litters spread across the US.

Dutch translated by Google Translate

