Watch the Big Apple LIVE!!

April 1st, 2017 / by Pee-wee Herman

LIVE! Today! The Big Apple!! LOOK!!

Thanks to our friends at EarthCam for bringing us the latest on the Big Apple!! Watch it on Facebook LIVE too (while you can)!

Remember in my movie, Pee-wee's Big Holiday, when I went to the real Big Apple, New York City?! Me too! It was fun!

Happy April Fools' Day, everyone!

The screenshot shows the EarthCam website interface for a live stream titled "BIG APPLE CAM". The main video player displays a large, realistic red apple in the foreground, with a helicopter flying in the background over a city skyline, likely New York City. The video player includes a progress bar at 00:00:00, a temperature of 57°F, and 534 likes. Below the video, there are navigation options for "RELATED CAMS" including "Wall Street, NYC", "Midtown, NYC", "Times Square South", and "Times Square, NYC". A "WELCOME TO THE BIG APPLE!" section features a map of New York City and text: "Times Square, Statue of Liberty, The Wall Street Bull, The World Trade Center, 5th Avenue, The Brooklyn Bridge, Little Italy. You expect the highest quality live webcams from the world's most iconic locations so EarthCam is proud to debut our very first Big Apple Cam streaming from the Big Apple NYC! Please share it with your friends!"
