NEW YORK (KTHV) – To celebrate the grand opening of One World Observatory in New York, EarthCam published a video on YouTube that will leave you speechless.

In the video, you see an amazing time-lapse of several high definition pictures from the beginning of construction in October 2004 to May 2015.

Even if you can't be in The Big Apple to see it in person, this video is a pretty incredible tribute.
