

WATCH: Greenville Zoo welcomes new baby giraffe

Briana Rivas | January 31, 2018

Greenville, S.C. (WPDE) — South Carolina got a little bit cuter on Wednesday with the birth of a new baby giraffe at the Greenville Zoo, according to a release from EarthCam.

The calf was born around 12 p.m. Wednesday to Mom, Autumn, and first time dad, Miles. EarthCam shared a live view of the birth and is now sharing a highlight reel, in case you missed it.

EarthCam and Greenville Zoo have been working together since 2012 to share live views of the giraffe exhibit with people around the world. They broadcast the birth of Autumn's first baby back in October of 2012 and they say the cameras have become a fan favorite.

Check in on the new baby for yourself below or watch the highlights of the live birth!

