

Construction Time-Lapse of US Bank Stadium for Super Bowl LII

KQDS Staff | February 1, 2018

Minneapolis, Minn. – On Sunday, February 4, the New England Patriots and Philadelphia Eagles will face-off at U.S. Bank Stadium in Minneapolis for the biggest game of the year. EarthCam is helping football fans get excited for this epic game by sharing its broadcast-quality construction time-lapse movie for the host stadium.

Showcasing 32 months of progress, viewers can see the entire construction process from start to opening day in just 3 minutes.

